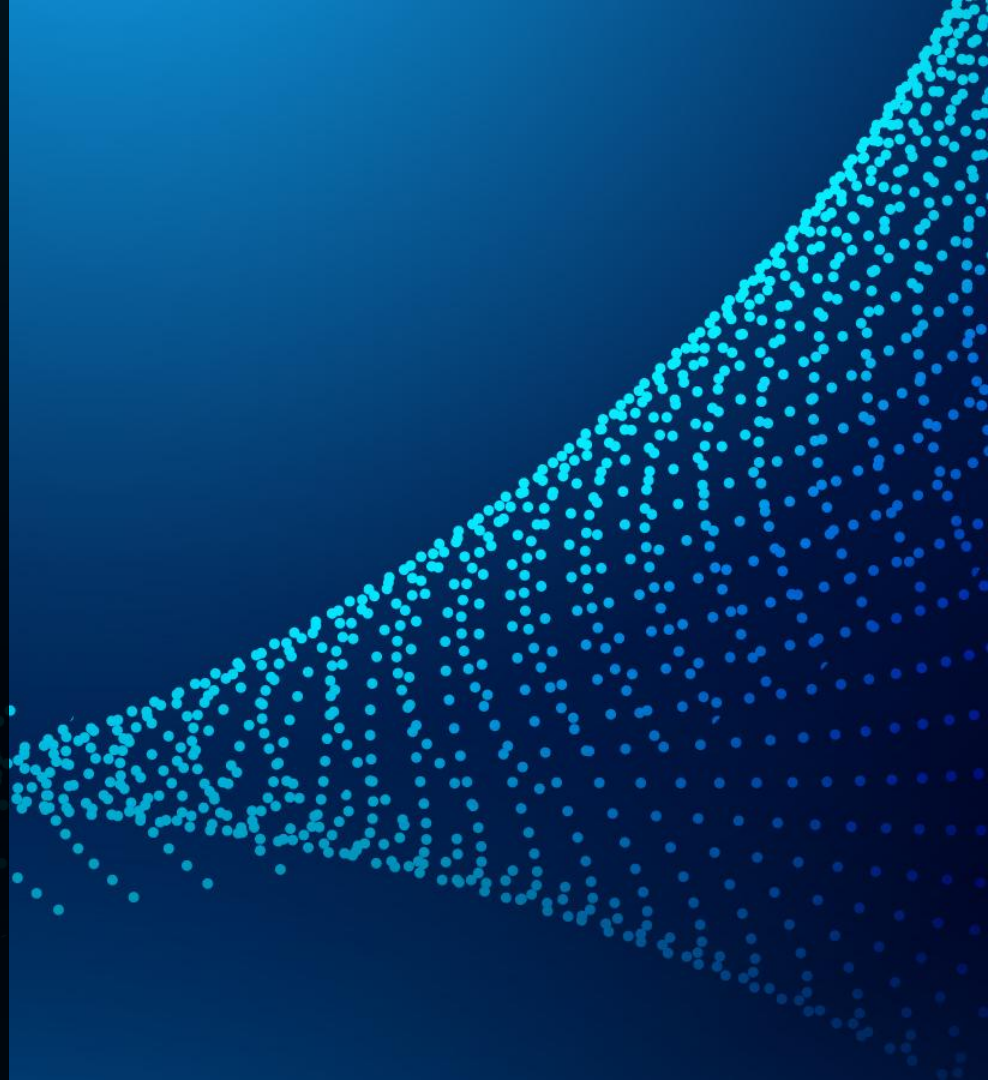
We've worked with the best attorneys in cryptocurrency, Blockchain and initial coin offerings (ICO's) and are happy to introduce you. Our relationships are your relationships.



Applicature

Smart Contracts development

Applicature provides smart contract development services. We develop highly secure smart contracts to launch Token Sale projects or enterprise level Blockchain initiatives to cover your customized needs. We help startups implement blockchain technology, ensuring security with our software. If you need help implementing your token distribution logistics, business processes, and storage in a decentralized way, the Ethereum ecosystem is the best option today. We can help with smart contracts from concept to deployment.

Applicature

ERC20+ERC223

Even though ERC223 has not been adopted by the community as a standard, Applicature succeeded in merging the two standards together to create a more secure and efficient token.

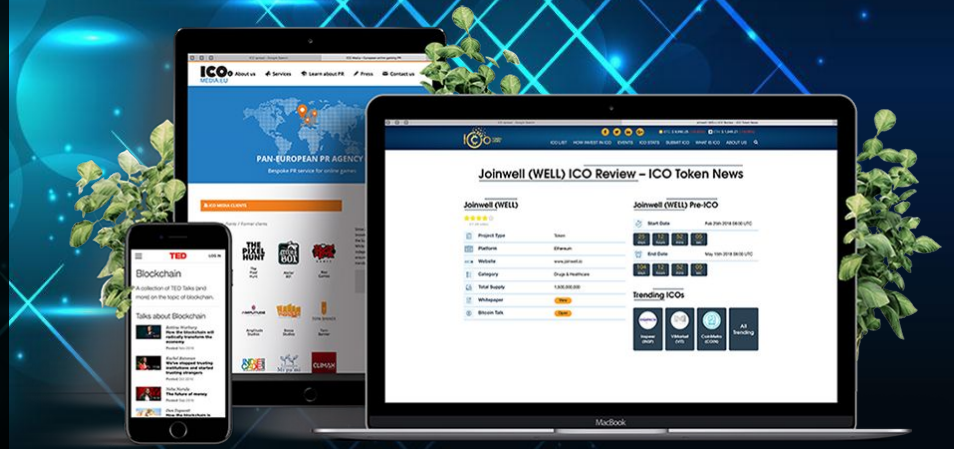
We also participate in defining industry standards organizations as they evolve.

Applicature

Suite of Token Sale Smart Contracts

Standard suite
of smart contracts includes:

- Pre-ICO and ICO tokensale
- ERC20 tokens
- Tokens allocation for team with vesting
- Smart contract for minting with ability and functionality for BTC and fiat transactions.



CryptoFights Technical Concept. Implementation of ERC721 Tokens

The Applicature team has implemented a fairly new standard of ERC721 to the CryptoFights system which became very popular and widely used in the community.
